Yearbook Editors

Well, we can't believe we have gone through an entire year, our last, and have placed it all into this book. We took the job thinking placing a few pictures and words would be pretty easy, yet it takes certain skills to perfect the act! Then again, it's a great experience and you get to see all the hard work that has been put into events at our school throughout the year. We did not include a theme because summing up the entire year in one sort of theme would not suffice! We tried to squeeze in as many pictures as possible, because that's what really holds the memories.

Thank you to the whole yearbook committee for your great ideas, cooperation and running around to gather pictures for us. I want to give a special thanks to Mr. Harris who is always organized and on task, which makes us look good. Secondly, thank you Miss Barbara for the junior and middle school connections and Mme Charpentier. Also thank you to Jean-Karl, for helping us with any problems and fixing the numerous crash downs our computers have faced because of all the memory that this wonderful little book takes up. Finally to Keenan for her wonderful art work on the introduction pages.

Completing page after page makes the year go by quickly. It's scary how fast time goes by!

To the future yearbook editors, cherish your last times at The Study and make the best of it! Good luck!

"Live, Laugh, Love, but first wake up"

Monica Chackal & Carmen Holmes

As my first year at The Study comes to a close, I have gathered many warm memories that have strengthened my emotional attachment to the community; and what a welcoming and supportive community it is! I have come to know a wonderful group of students who are bright, creative, willing to try new things and eager to extend themselves intellectually, physically, artistically and emotionally. They have a terrific sense of humour and we have had an eventful and positive learning adventure this year.

As an educator, it is always exciting to watch young people learn and grow. Each day brings new opportunities and challenges and at the end of high school, Study graduates are ready to take on the world with confidence and independence. The Class of 2004 – my first group of Study graduates - will remain a special group for me. They have been most welcoming and friendly, and I have thoroughly enjoyed getting to know this eclectic and talented group of young people. Not only have they organized and participated in a wide range of activities, they have also supported and celebrated each other along the way. Their perseverance, determination, creativity and willingness to express their opinions are probably their most admirable qualities as a group - qualities that will serve them well throughout their lives.

It is with mixed emotions that I watch them graduate. While I am sad to see these wonderful girls leave the school and lose their daily impact on the community, I am also excited about the possibilities that lie ahead for them. I know that these young women will have fond memories of their days at The Study. They will remember special learning moments in class and participating in activities and events; but most of all, they will forever remember the friendships they have developed – with their peers and their teachers.

It is these relationships and the close sense of family that makes The Study such a special place. I hope that members of the Class of 2004 will visit us from time to time and keep us abreast of the successes and challenges in their lives. I also hope that they will continue to consider The Study as a source of support and remember us as a family to whom they can always turn.

This yearbook is certainly a wonderful collection of memories for the graduating Class of 2004. To the girls, savour these times and move forward with the same determination and passion you have shown here at The Study.

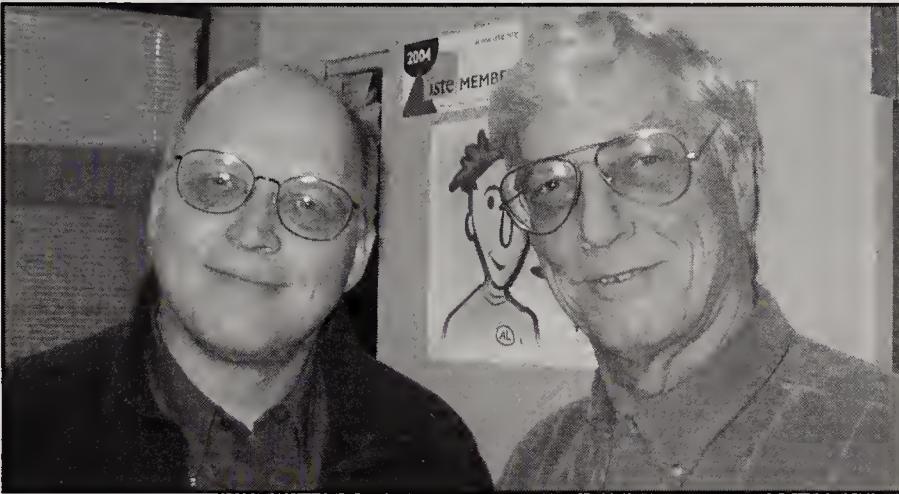

Best wishes!

Head Girl

Monica Chan

This year has definitely been the most memorable, not only because it's my last year, but also because of my role as Head Girl. What an amazing year it has been! I'll start at the very beginning of this journey, when the seven of us ventured into school, a week before school started. ONE WHOLE WEEK; we are so dedicated. Bazaar, prefect initiations, dances, assemblies, and let's not forget about our lovely banners that we worked so hard on, good times. Although at times, I was stressed out of my mind, none of this would have been accomplished without my fellow council members and Ms. Zannis. Thank you Ms. Zannis, for always being there and keeping us on track; Olivia: you were a great elementary school prefect, always willing to paint banners, and of course, the only one tall enough to put up the decorations, thanks Olive; Keenan: the best entertainment prefect in DA house, you worked so hard on all the dances, they were awesome, pat yourself on the back my friend; Daina: you were an awesome secretary, always on task and taking notes in every meeting, your ideas are great and the cotillion skit would not have been the same without you; Carol: what can I say about our sports captain? Your announcements were always entertaining and your enthusiasm in the meetings is always appreciated; Basilia: you're the best Sub-Head a Head can ask for. Our late-night talks when ideas would just come to us out of nowhere were the best, you're the best! We were THE TEAM, the members of the fellowship, a hard act to follow, just kidding.

Thank you to my fellow students for giving me an opportunity to be your Head Girl. Our goal this year was to make the school year unforgettable and I hope that we've done a good job. I have definitely grown as a person from this experience; I now know that I can accomplish anything I set my mind to. Good luck to Majenta next year, I know that you will be an amazing Head Girl! Just live in the moment, enjoy everything that comes your way, and remember to have fun. Well, I've come to the end of my journey, and what an amazing journey it has been!

Sub-Head Girl

Basilia Yeung

Through my rewarding experience as Sub-Head girl, I learned the importance of building trust and mutual respect. The council's commitment to working together despite any obstacle was the key to achieving a successful year. A heartfelt thank you to the amazing dedication of my fellow council members: Monica, Carol, Daina, Jenny, Olivia and Keenan. All the numerous hours spent painting banners, decorating the lunchroom and last-minute skit rehearsals are over, but the memories we shared doing that together will never be forgotten. It was such a pleasure and honour to work with you. Thank you to all the students for your enthusiasm and participation throughout the year. Remember to always work harder, persevere and do everything to the best of your ability. Join a new sport, or try out for the play but never forget to have fun and enjoy the time you have at The Study. I hope you enjoyed the events we planned for you and best of luck to next year's student council! Lastly, thank you to all the teachers for their patience and support, to Ms. Zannis for her relentless help and trust and to the student body for giving me such an amazing opportunity.

Elementary School Prefect Olivia Kruyt

Before I start thanking everyone for everything, I just wanted to say how AMAZING the Elementary school is. I had so much fun with you girls. It was a great experience to be able to be on the student council. Though we had to stay many countless nights, come early a million times in the morning and sacrifice many lunches, it was all worth it. I learned so many things from everyone; we have had many laughs together and I think that this experience has brought us all closer to one another. I would also like to thank Ms. Zannis for all her support and guidance. Jenny and Daina, I had so much fun working on the Bazaar with you, it was great and you know it. Monica and Basilia, your skits were amazing, even though sometimes no one laughed. Keenan your events were the best in the universe. Carol, all I have to say is that your speeches rock. It was a great pleasure to be on the student council this year, and if I had the opportunity I would do it again. Good luck to next year's elementary school prefect.

Love Olivia.

Entertainment Prefect Keenan-Anne Goddard Donovan

Hey, hey, hey. Well, look what's finally come up. THE END. It's been much easier to write this than that other mass of words next to my picture. It's been easier to write this because I won't miss things like coming up with themes for dances...I HATE THEMES...but that's all I won't miss.

To Ms. Zannis: All I have to say is that you really challenged me well here. What was I thinking taking on this position? Me? Organize something? Camaaaaan. You managed to make me realize that I can do it if I find my own way and try. I'm truly grateful for that and your "It's gonna be a long year" looks.

To the TEAM: I'm so lucky to have been part of this kind of group with you guys. I love you so much and I'm glad I got to know you better this way. Carol: good times at the Dollar Store. Halloween is GOOD FOR US. You make me feel like I try too hard... Basilia: I'll miss your cute and crafty spirit. I like how I don't think I've ever seen you blow up. It's admirable. Daina: HII...you're just a crazy woman. I'll miss your logic and good laugh. Olivia: Well, just look at us. We're amazing. It's obvious we were meant for greatness and greatness was meant for us. Miss ya Scooper. Monica: The chill master. SlickStyleSteel? If I could hug you forever, I would. Jenny: You're just great. That's right. *Climbs locker

All's to say that now it's time to pass on my resplendent, polished title as Entertainment prefect to another young, gleaming girl: _____. GOOD LUCK.

(exeunt) HA!

Treasurer Jenny Ciliberto

What can I say? Being on student council was a blast. Organizing massive events, like Bazaar, Spirit Week, Talent Show etc... are stressful, let me tell you, but my fellow student council members not only made the job livable, you guys made it fun. I enjoyed the hours we spent together rehearsing scripts, pricing bazaar items, supervising dances (Olive hehe!). Mo Chan, Basil, Carol, Olive, Keener and Daina you guys are amazing. We proved that if we worked together we could accomplish anything, even the impossible. You guys made my last year a memorable one. A special thanks goes out to Ms. Zannis for listening to our ideas no matter how wacky they were. Good luck to the graduating class of '05. "Keep Ya Head Up", you'll know what I mean come next year ;)

Secretary Daina Antikacioglu

I'm not going to start off this write-up with the usual. No, I never knew in advance that I wanted to be Student Council Secretary, in fact, I had no clue what this title offered in terms of a job. I just knew that I wanted to represent my class. You guys are probably the best group of people with whom I could have spent 12 years! I knew I couldn't leave without having some sort of effect on the rest of the high school...that's if I did...ha ! Monica : always giving the council ideas to work with, even if they were surreal: "How about this... no? Okay..." Basilia: probably the most quiet person who ever existed on the Student Council yet always there to help. Carol: oh Carol... all I have to say is that I waited for every Friday morning assembly, this year, to listen to your sports announcements. Olivia : BOOMER! 1st place for most eager person at the grade 7 & 8 dance! Keenan : You throw the greatest parties! "Where's the host?" "Uh, I think she got lost". Jenny : I've never seen someone get so excited over counting money. Eat whipped cream! And finally to Ms. Zannis - thank you for guiding the Student Council whenever we went off track and even if we didn't. SC: what were we talking about?
P.S. One thing that they never put in any of the Student Council job descriptions: making a fool out of yourself in assembly is key.

Sports Captain Carol Taing

This year has been a memorable year in every possible way. I came into this year with many hopes, expectations, and ideas. Although I don't think I have done and achieved all I wanted to do this year, I realized that life rarely goes the way you want it to. The thing is that now that I look back on the year, I realize that although I might not have accomplished and gained everything I wanted to, I have definitely gained many other things I never expected to learn, which is just as good. Thanks to Mrs. Traylen, who really helped me with my transition from student to sports captain. Mrs. Balfour, thank you for all your support throughout all the years you have taught me. The "Force" for all your help! The entire student council, I don't know what other group of people would put up with me. To Serena, best of luck next year and my advice would be to enjoy your power while you have it :)

Girls for the Cure Emily Ormond

Tuck Tania Kostanian

-“Tania, is Tuck open? Tania, do we have chips? Tania! Tania! Tania!”
Never have I heard my name cried out by so many girls. All for what? Sugar! That’s right: Aero, Aero Mint (2 boxes Irene), Kit Kat, Smarties, Caramilk (best customer by far: Mr. Hamilton), Mirage, Skittles, Big Foot, Pixie Sticks and the list goes on. You name it, we had it! Every day it was my job to provide the high school with their daily sugar needs. If I wasn’t getting hassled by my own class, it was the other kids who would be banging on the window even though the sign said FERMÉ.

Although it’s at times quite a stressful job, in the end it was all worth it because, I was able to get some great laughs out of it:
-Do you have ketchup chips? -No, we don’t have any chips left! -Ok, then do you have Doritos?

All these great times will never be forgotten. I would also like to thank everyone that helped out with Tuck. First of all, to my mom for providing us with the assorted treats; to Mme Anderson for keeping me on track and on “budget,” and to all our great customers without whom, our grad wouldn’t have been the same. To next year’s Tuck Head, I wish you all the best and be ready to serve at all times and don’t lose the key! Oh yeah, and WATCH THE TABS! And finally, I just want to say, “Ms. Zannis, the Tuck Head should so be part of student council!”

Grad Head Chloe Thevenoz

From day one, we planned and looked forward to the big day. With lots of work and time, it finally came.

Thank you to everyone for making the big weekend such a success. Thank you to all the hosts throughout the weekend because it wouldn’t have been as great without you. Grad was awesome and congratulations to the class of 2004!

MU GAMMA

WE LOVE MU GAMMA!!!

We have always been the smallest and the most picked on house, but we have proven to be definitely the MOST SPIRITED and even if we did not win any cups we secretly all know that we DESERVED ALL OF THEM!!!

This year has been a blast.

Thank you to the entire "Force"! We have all supported and helped each other throughout the year. Thank you to Mrs. Traylen; we could not have done it without you. Thank you to our incredible house for their brilliance, motivation, spirit, talent and beauty!!!

Best of luck to the future Mu Gamma head, sub-head and sports captain. Have fun while it lasts!

Lots of love, Leila Amiri, Carmen Holmes and Diana Heckler.

DELTA BETA

WE ARE THE DELTA BETA MUSTARD SODAS! AND SEEDS! AND SEEDS! AND SEEDS!

Well Delta Betians, this has been an amazing year for us. We are after all, the best house! You are motivated, interested, and talented girls and we love you to no end. Think about it for a sec- we're good at academics, we're good at sports, and we're definitely good at cheers! So basically, that means we're the best house. Go us! Our final request before we retire from our positions is that you keep up the incredible spirit, traditional cheers and sportsmanship for many many years to come.

Thanks for giving us the best year ever!

Katharine, Irene, and Anne-Marie

BETA LAMBDA

What a year this has been. This house is full of spirit, determination and hard work. You guys were always ready to shout and show your spirit to represent the best house of all! We had a great time with you this year and we look forward to an even better year in September.

Sadly, all has come to an end. Although, your involvement is what makes our house so great. Thank you to the Force and Mrs. Traylen who worked so hard to make all the events take place. Last but certainly not least, thank you to all of Beta Lambda for making such an amazing year! We wish next year's head, sub-head, and sports captain the best of luck.

GO BETA LAMBDA! YEAH!

Majenta, Kristina and Allyson

KAPA RO

Dear, Kappa Ro it's hard to say goodbye to the BEST house ever! This year has been amazing, the enthusiasm was great and I hope everyone enjoyed it just as much as we did. We had loads of fun preparing house meetings; we tried incorporating new ideas as well as being creative. From house points, to spirit, to sports, to having a good time, I must say our mission was successful. We stuck together through thick and thin and managed to overcome any minor endeavours on the way. The time has come to say goodbye and pass the torch on to our new house leaders, and we wish you all the best! A special thanks to Mrs. Traylen, we couldn't have done it without your constant encouragement.

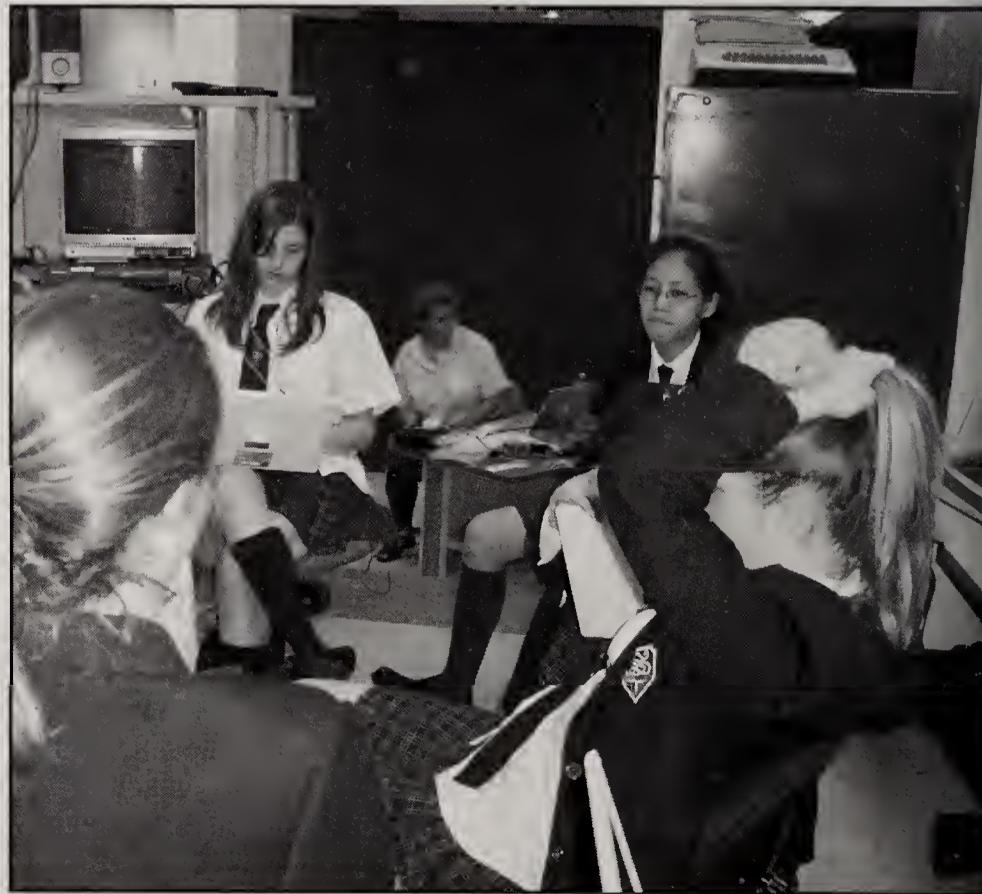

Let the force be with you!

Debating

"BIRT The Sun is not yellow, it is Chicken"

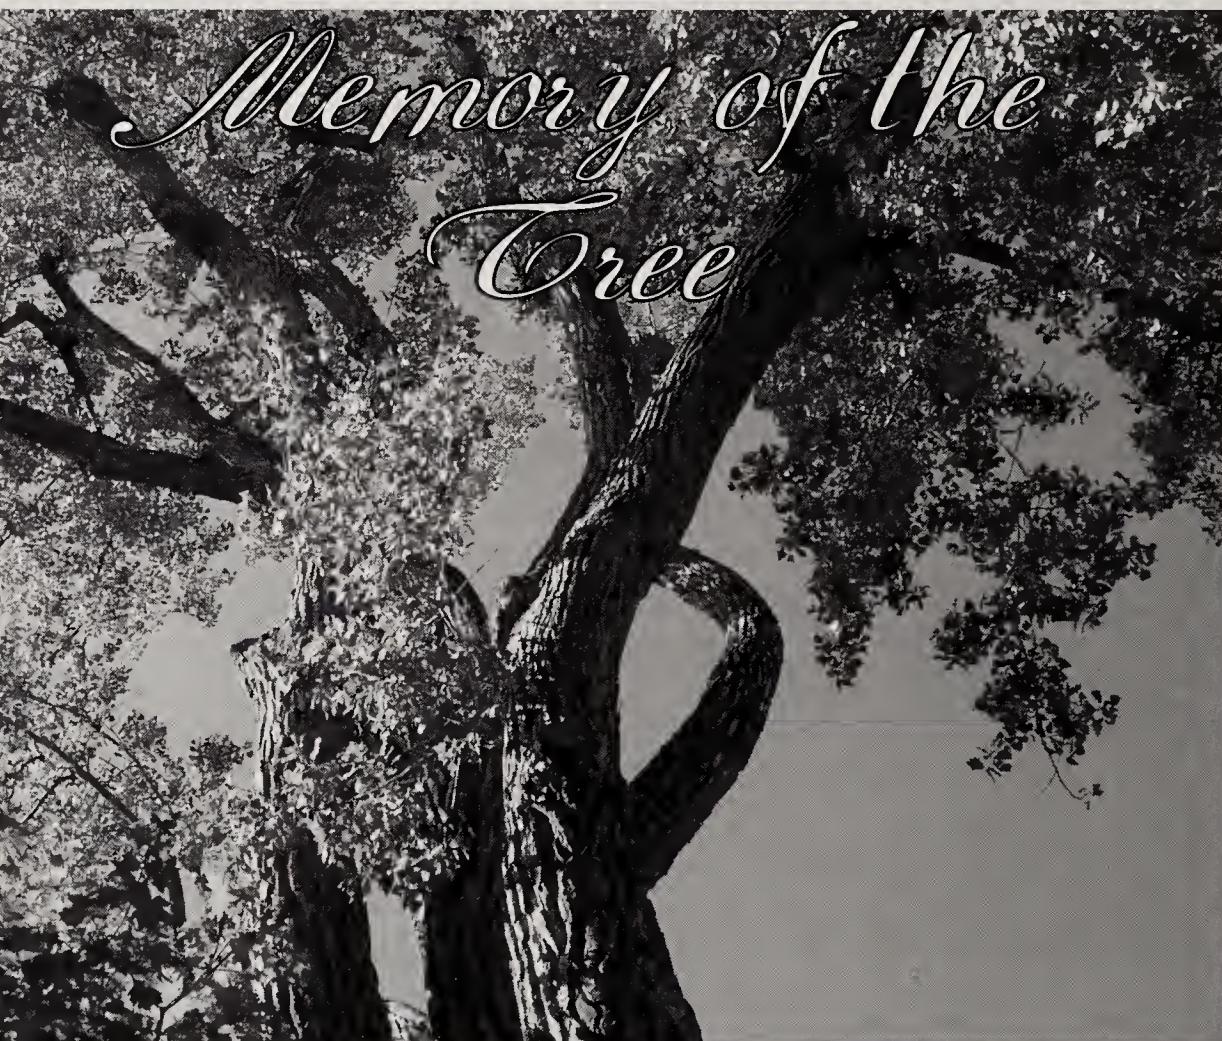

It is resolutions like this one and many others that The Debating and Model United Nations Society of The Study has spent their time breaking down into pros and cons. We've even tried our hand at squirreling! This club has had a tremendous year with the addition of a junior branch of our team, the second Study Model United Nations and the first Study Debating Workshop. The Junior Team gained a lot of experience and was quite successful in their endeavours. Although debating was a priority this year, the Senior Team was extremely fortunate to have had a different range of opportunities, such as The World Affairs conference in Toronto, The Hague International Model United Nations Conference and The National Student Commonwealth Forum in Ottawa. Both teams thank Ms. Fahmy and Ms. Tien for their considerable amount of commitment, tutelage and support. We also thank James Phalen, our coach, for all his help and guidance. Congratulations to everyone on an amazing and ground breaking year!

Dahlia Abramowicz (Fatty)

Hmmm. Squeezing five years of intense madness into a tiny blurb is quite a challenge. There are so many things I have been anticipating since my sister graduated four years ago. Like this, for instance. But now that I'm here, I find myself with a blank. Is it the pressure? No my friends, it is the mere fact that no matter what I say, no matter how I put it, nothing will sum up my time spent here. I've seen it all, just about how much an isolated teenager in an all girls private school can see. But nevertheless, I've gone through five years of high school, and I feel that it's truly my time to be set free, to experience the life of Dawson and form new memories of a fresh reality. I will go with nothing but optimism and five dollars for lunch. CT: despite my moods, I'll always love my weirdo. SugaSuga. Phatty: thanks for the half-bagels and I'll never forget shakin' it. NARC: Don't front, we're both lepracons. Kerna: hows your mom? Em, uh YOUR'E CRAZY. Olive, Baby: J'taime! K-dog: you're a superstar. Fellow classmates: It's been real! Mama: I am your rock and you are my inspiration. Farley: you're the best papa ever, thanks for the lifts. Lisa: my taste in music is thanks to your true gift of creativity. It's been a wild five years but guess what boys, IT'S OVER! ...I AM THE MASTER OF THE CHEESES...And with that, I bid adieu.

Stacey Akodis (Stacky)

Before I begin, let me just say that my time at The Study has made me a little crazy. So if this seems like a strange write-up, it's not my fault.

The Study is a place
Where everything's a race.
A race to do your best,
A race to pass the test.

If you're a Study student
You surely know not sleep.
At times you're gonna feel
Like a tortured little sheep.

But now the race is over,
We've made it through, you guys.
And now a whole new world
Is there before our eyes.

The Study has prepared us
For races yet to come.
So let the class of 2004
Succeed and kick some bum!

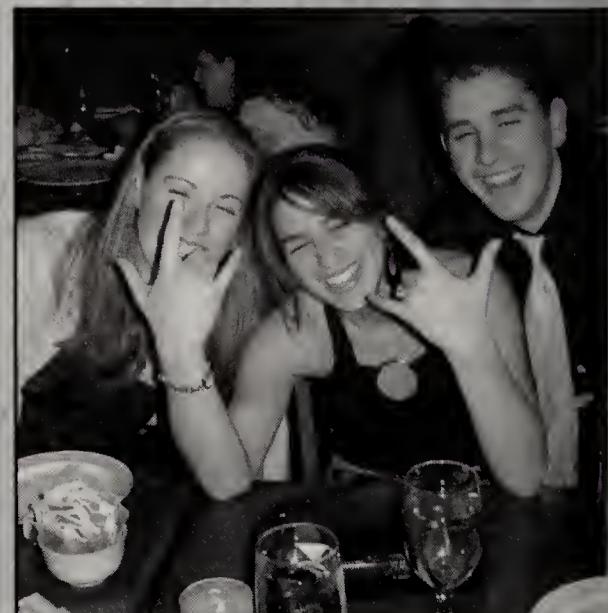

I just want take a moment to appreciate some of the little things that have often made my not-so-happy days, like Steph's math walk, singing Carmen with Emily and Here's a Story Bout a Boy Named Tony with Tania. Watching Olivia in my crazy French class with Chan, Berger, Sara, and Sherm and having to say Rose est pas lente a million times. Thanks Dad for caring and thanks Mom for cooking, I promise I'll learn how to cook someday. And thanks to my teachers for teaching. I love you all and just remember to follow your lovely dreams because "it ain't talent, it ain't skill; they'll help, but not as much as wanting will." Luv Stacey

Leila Amiri (Lola)

Here we finally are. It's the end of a long trip and somehow, I don't know how to say goodbye. As a survivor I have seen many things come and go, some bad and others good, but this is the end and I am both a little saddened but mostly ecstatic to leave our little house on the hill. Before I leave I would like to thank a few people for making my time here much more exciting than it was uneventful. First and foremost, my family, who was always there for me although I was, at times, not the easiest thing to handle. To my crazy Libra: we were meant for stardom. Don't ever stop singing. Siamese: We'll go try some fancy clothes on next year. To my birth buddy: you're a cow & you have no bum. To Keenan: the best entertainment prefect we've had yet. Your ingenious ideas and creative mind made things that much better. Mandy: we've had some good times in ITM. La Carmencita, Dahl, Mon, and our Hayley: you're crazy Stewart skits will be missed!! Irene: you're a sweetheart and have a heart of gold. We're still working out next year. Steph: lol, what can I say but my time with you has been interesting but hysterical. And now to my girls, I truly don't know what I'd do without you! Livia: our metaphors have given us much to laugh about and I still think we should burn the book...just to be safe. Allyson: our little moments along with our dreams are priceless, although very often forgotten. Our little talks are more comforting than you think & gave us many little surprises. You are the ultimate queen of the village! Dee: since spaced-out kids in Kindergarten, I can't even begin to think of all the stuff we've been through; but we've made it this far and I couldn't have asked for a better friend to be there with me. So I'll stop with the cheese before you make any more fun of me & say this.... atanar.JUAT!!! And now I must leave you all for this is the end of our time together. You guys have given me much to think of and experiences I will never forget.

* Leila *

Daina Antikacioglu (Dee)

I'd like to dedicate this write-up to my whole class, because whether we've been here since Kindergarten or only arrived two years ago, we're all survivors. That's about all the cheese I'll be putting into this. To P and Ed: thanks for putting up with me and supporting me through 12 years at this school. Derev...and Nie (j/k, you rock): thanks for the food and shelter. Oh since you never got to put this in your write up D: "you're a good tiiime!" To my girls: I converted you... and I don't mean religiously! Lola: ATANAR...JUAT – Miroir, HA! Ruffles: most likely to be a Pilates instructor. Going to the gym with you is GRRREAT! BIRDS! Livy: My parents are out of town! We switched nationalities. Jonny PS: I still don't know how I put up with you! To the Herz crew: so many good times. Steph & Irene: "Remember the time when...? Woooh you crack me up!" Tania: "We don't have any chips left." ... "Then, do you have ketchup chips?" Who am I going to speak a foreign language with? Monica, Keenan, Carmen, Amanda, Hayley & Candace: I never have to watch another episode of SNL or MAD TV... ever! Chloé & Dahlia: We should get together sometime. Katharine: Teen Girl Squad's "the ugly one" rocks – Woot! Carol: I think I'm finally ready to admit that I'm a midget. Sherman: "You win, ok?" To the grads of 2004: We're OUT!

Amanda Apostolakis (Mandolin)

"Wake from your dreams, the drying of your tears, today we escape, we escape." – Radiohead. It's been eleven years and just like standing in front of the class facing all of you, I'm still trembling and I still don't know how to get my message across. Truth is, we've all grown up together, we've all been there for each other, and somehow we've all managed to survive this hectic circle, this unbearable routine we've been trying to escape since grade 2. I'll never forget the "good times", all the class trips, the "hey guys who did their homework?" the insomniac tendencies, living off of caffeine, seeing Carol every morning, laughing hysterically until practical asphyxiation, the lunch hours, the class that pulls it all off, everything comes to an end sometime, eh? First and foremost, I'd like to thank my family for all the support, without you I would have never gotten this far. KGD, BFFL, scanscanscan! I love you until my heart bleeds black. Death Pony, (my life), the crew, thank you for drastically picking me back up when I fell and for being the backbone I've learned to grow. I would name so much more but I would honestly be writing an essay, good luck to the future class of 2005, and to the rest of my classmates: it's been one hell of a ride... I love you all beyond compare, even if it's not apparent. "Caged birds accept each other, but flight is what they long for." – Radiohead

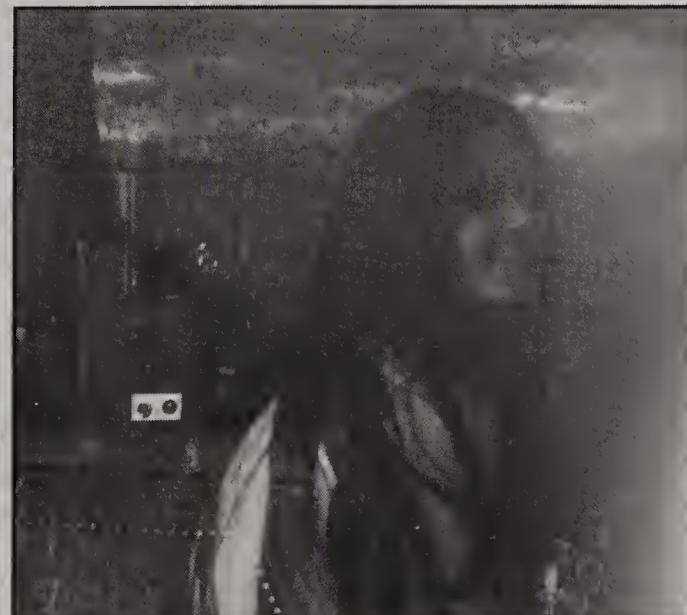

Katharine Berger (Losebag)

"Whatever you do, do it well."

It's hard to believe that my six years at The Study are coming to an end. Thank you Mom and Dad for the support and for pushing me to be my best. Thank you Jess and Jonathan for putting up with me. Thank you to the rest of my family for shaping who I am today. Thank you to the staff for keeping our school so beautiful. Thank you teachers for transmitting your knowledge to me and for sincerely trying to make classes fun. To THE GRADUATING CLASS OF '04: A big kiss. You are a bunch of dynamic girls and have made my years at The Study very memorable. Whale: you are my birth buddy. Who's is bigger? Carine, Mo Chan, Worm: I can speak Chinese. Stak: you are so funny! Farm, Keenananan and Chack: you are errrazy which is why I love you. Olive (Blonde #2) you are my tall friend. Popeye and D-dog: guess where we're NOT going tonight? Maya my Jewish friend: thanks for the latkes and for listening to my problems. To the rest of my friends outside this bubble we call school, you know who you are, gracias. I love you and will miss you next year. To all the rest of the girls at The Study: keep up the traditions and the spirit! Traditions are what make our school special. Good luck everyone, and peace out.

Katharine

Monica Jennifer Chackal (Phatty)

After spending over half my life at this school, there are endless things to say. The school has changed tremendously over the years, but I am just happy that I got to experience and be a part of the old traditions (White!!). Even though it's not school it was 10 years ago, I will always know what The Study really is. Family: thanks for keeping together over the years: Kimster (Nyak), Lana (Good crazy), Chris (Gym partner) and Dad (Best chicken and rice). Mom, you have and always will be my light and my path. I love you to pieces. Mark A.F.G.: Shared your qualities with me: open-mindedness and Hockey. Dahl: Fats, Bagel TMR train belly dancing tight since fetus friend, I hope we grow old and fat together. Carm: through the ups and downs since we met, we always find each other on the same level, keep loving the chocolate. Keens: from leg plucking to lying in the snow to science fairs and guitar talent shows...you'll touche pas mon poster! Hayl: we'll always stay in touch. Memorable times at Frappes...no comment. Chlo & Berger: Crazy blonds, good times & laughs. Chan: Best Monica I know! Manda: the BEST unforgettable laughs. Daina & Tania: The Armenians... secretly crazy, and leila. Olivia: shamanon/rolf! Eva: WOL/Shoshana-You keep me standing (Rooks&Gabiz). Van.B: from playing mermaid to Crescent street, you've shown me to be positive, lov u! Sam.W: Wild times. And to the rest of my class of 2004, I couldn't have grown up with anyone as fantastic as you guys. Who stole the cheeses? AURENCE! Thanks to Miss Liogas for challenging tasks. ...ETC. ETC. ETC. (Stratford).

Monica Kit-Ming Chan (Mochan)

It truly has been a long 11 years at this school, at times stressful, but mostly a lot of fun and full of memories. First of all, I want to thank my family for their constant support throughout the years. I want to thank all my teachers for their dedication and patience, everything you've taught me has finally been absorbed, I think. Finally, to the crazy psychos I've had to see each and every morning. My fave habs fans: we made it!!; the cheese stealers: it's over, the cheese belongs to us; my REMIX buds: I honestly think we're going to get far, do some remixes here and there; Berg: "yes sir, oh I mean ma'am". ha, good times, I'm never going to forget those random convos we had; Jen and Tan: my LaSalle homies, maybe I'll actually take a bus and visit you guys, ha...right; Em and Stacky: remember those French classes ...with Ovila and Capt. Chase?? Good times talking French with accents; Erin and Jess: lunch is never the same without you; Bee: Weston guy!! Carol: just for the record, I saw Collin first; Kates: my math buddy, you have to watch Americans Dreams, stop pretending to watch it; Shermz: I'm crying next year without my Physics buddy. Let's not forget about those "hardworking" bio classes and chem (the poop terrorist and Average Joe, baby), good times. Good luck my friends, I'm going to look like such a loser laughing by myself next year, thinking about the most random things we've been through.

Allyson Pia Chelly (Ruffles)

The years have come to an end and so many memories have passed. First I would like to thank my parents for supporting me through all my 12 years at The Study. Now to my girls: Daina: Birds are the best at the bleachers. Going to the gym is the best especially when...you finish the sentence, Napoli is the best we have to go next summer. Leila: Our moments are the best...always a good time with our little village. Cannes next summer!!! Livia: Portugal (Bar Conditional)...Elle est bonne celle a!!!! Never forget the summer 2002 CCDH. Best moments and memories. Irene: Are their two seats next you??? Movies are the best. Steph: We have the best Crew...I'm still winning the game. Rockaberrys is so good. Tania: Which is it clothes or chocolate??? By the way it's AHAHAH... Our phone conversations are the best. Fred: Once a study girl.. We all still love you. Herz Crew: Shot Gun!!! Dahlia: Like omg Dahliaaaa!!!!!! Chloe: I'm coming to get you from the airport!!! YAY. Carmen: My gym buddy...hehe I love playing against you. To the rest of the people in the class I will miss you guys a lot...We're finally out!!!!!!

Giovanna Ciliberto (Jennis the Mennis)

After five and half years it finally happened - I made it on to the bench! It's been a long trip but I definitely came out with more than I went in with. I didn't do it alone though, Ma, Pa, Charlie: thanks for always being there. Irene: aka my first friend, aka my Greek, its sick, are you serial?! You rock. Tania: I'll never forget your hair, I stared at it for one whole year; math class wasn't the same without it. Speaking of math class, I believe Carol used that hour for nap time. Muahahaha, we're never gonna let you live that down, but I have to say your speeches have improved! HSS: E.P. always my #1 fan XOXOXO. Keenan: we definitely have sick humor; we need help. Steff: I would have never survived without our late night cram sessions. Everybody else, you know who you are: "You will always be in my heart with unconditional love" (Tupac). Last but not least, no high school student can make it without awesome teachers; you guys are amazing! Congrats Class of '04 WE MADE IT!! "What we do in life echoes in eternity." (Gladiator).

"When sorrows come, they come not single spies, but in battalions." —Hamlet
After having spent 11 wonderful years at The Study, thoughts of Hamlet and those long overwhelming hours of homework, assignments, tests, presentations (the list goes on), seem to be the only thoughts running through my disorderly mind at this point in time. I've dealt with good and horrendous times, which will leave interesting memories and shall not be forgotten. In fact, despite the challenging obstacles I've managed to surpass, surprisingly this is the most difficult moment in terms of gathering together eternal memories and my experience at The Study. I've built never-ending friendships and it's been a long, long, long journey. Leila: dangerous with water, or just about anything. Ally: I couldn't have asked for a better friend. casse-toi. Dee: our trip to Morocco left quite the impression, luv ya hun. Steph & Irene: Vatican or envy? Who would have known we'd turn out like this after our grade 6 traumas? Jo: St-Join & "bar conditional" was quite the adventure. TK: double B can I join your partner in crime group? To the class of 04: I am sure that one day Donald Trump will be working for us. Dali: you'll always be Libby to me. Carol or bro: #23 #1 baller. And to my parents thank you for supporting and encouraging me through all my endeavors.

Erin Melissa Donivan

Twelve years ago I was walking up Braeside wondering why the Junior School girls had to walk so far while the Senior School girls didn't. It seemed like I would never be one of the "older girls". That time seems so far away, and yet it also seems like yesterday. At times these last 12 years seem eerily short, and at others they feel extremely long. I can honestly say that "some days were diamonds, and some days were stones". However, regardless of the day, there was always someone to share both the good and the bad times with. I know I will miss The Study, but it's time to leave the nest. To all the support and teaching staff of the Junior, Middle and Senior Schools I would like to express my sincerest thanks. From scraped knees to sports teams and extra help when I didn't quite understand, you were always the best! To my unforgettable friends, most of whom I've known since I was missing my two front teeth, you always came through. Jess: I'm not sure how you put up with me for 12 years, but I'm extremely happy you did! To Carol, Monica, and Sherman: thanks for 11 great years of strength and support! To Tanya and Basillia: we should have met when we were five! I have great faith that we all have many, many more laughs and tears to share. To the class of '04, whichever road you take, whatever friends you make, I wish you all the very best!

Sara Jolaine Drury

I won't mention the number of years I've spent at The Study; it makes me feel too old. However, I will say this: my time here has definitely been interesting. What I will miss the most is the unique sense of humor that only this class seems to share, and the way that no matter where we are or what we're doing, it always turns out to be a blast. Thanks guys, and good luck!

Stephanie Elian (Toyoubé)

First and foremost, I want to thank my father for all the tedious lectures he forced me to sit through, because I believe that he is one of the most ambitious, clever and loving men that anyone can ever come across. My father urges me to aim only for the best and will go to the moon and back if that's what it would take to help me. Words cannot describe the admiration I have towards my mother. She is in fact the strongest, most loyal and dignified woman that exists on the face of the earth. Christina: don't let anything stand in your way; you can have anything you want as long as you keep your head up and work hard. Throughout my experience at The Study, we have developed a friendship that is unbreakable and envied by almost all who come across us. Irene: over the years you have become like a sister to me; your love, support and kindness may seem to have gone unnoticed, but I can assure you that I appreciate you in every way possible. Irene, you are a loyal, determined and respectable girl who is going to go very far in life and I wish you nothing but success for the future and will be there to encourage you, no matter what. Emily of Arabia, Daina, Livia, Leila, Jenny and Allyson: we've all come a long way together and even with our differences we all stood by each other through the difficult times. I sincerely wish you girls all the best and I enjoyed the laughing, the arguing and the crying. My final words: "The man who can drive himself further once the effort gets painful is the man who will win." (Roger Bannister)

Heather Galbraith

They say that time flies when you're having fun; now I can admit to it. That very first day I wore a uniform and walked into a place that I can now call my second home, I was shy and nervous but ready to take on adventure. I knew nobody at the time. That same day, someone who is now my best friend (yes that's you KT) came up to me and took me under her loving wing. Now look what I've become - definitely not shy and quiet anymore. Though there were times when we wanted to give up, we survived. KT, Krissy, Wonger, Chan, TK, Mel and Jess: I have had the time of my life with you all and you are the best friends that anyone could have. I will never forget you. Thanks for helping me through the hard times when I needed a shoulder to cry on and the times when we laughed until we cried. Thanks to all the teachers, who have made me a better person and special thanks to a good teacher and even better friend, Ms Mac. If it wasn't for you I don't know how I would have survived those first few weeks. Thanks Mum and Dad for giving me the opportunity to go to such an amazing school. I love you, Iona and Brian, although at times it might not seem so, I really do love you both. This is not goodbye; rather it's see you later.

Keenan-Anne Goddard Donovan (Nana)

To every end there is a new beginning...(welcome to the cheeze factory). Five years have passed and I don't think I'll ever learn more about human behavior anywhere else. It all started on my first day in grade 7 at The Study - Hayley introducing herself to me was the start of a friendship I never knew could be so strong. Berger told me I was cool because I was a DBian. Carol, my big sister, ditched me because I annoyed her, and someone looked at me and concluded that I must have been on drugs (I still don't know who you are...but I will find you...)Ahh. Good times. Now that our little journey together is unofficially coming to a close, I look at all of you in a different light than I, unfortunately, should have turned to before. You're not just fools I sat through tedious classes with, you are amazing people. Some of the most amazing I've ever met and that will never leave me. Not that you had much choice, but thank you for being a part of my life. Mum, Dad, thank you for allowing me to understand life by my own terms and holding my hands along the way. Thanks to the people I call my friends: some of the greatest people a human could be blessed to know. And last but not least, thanks to PF for the ride.

"The time is gone, the song is over, thought I'd something more to say."

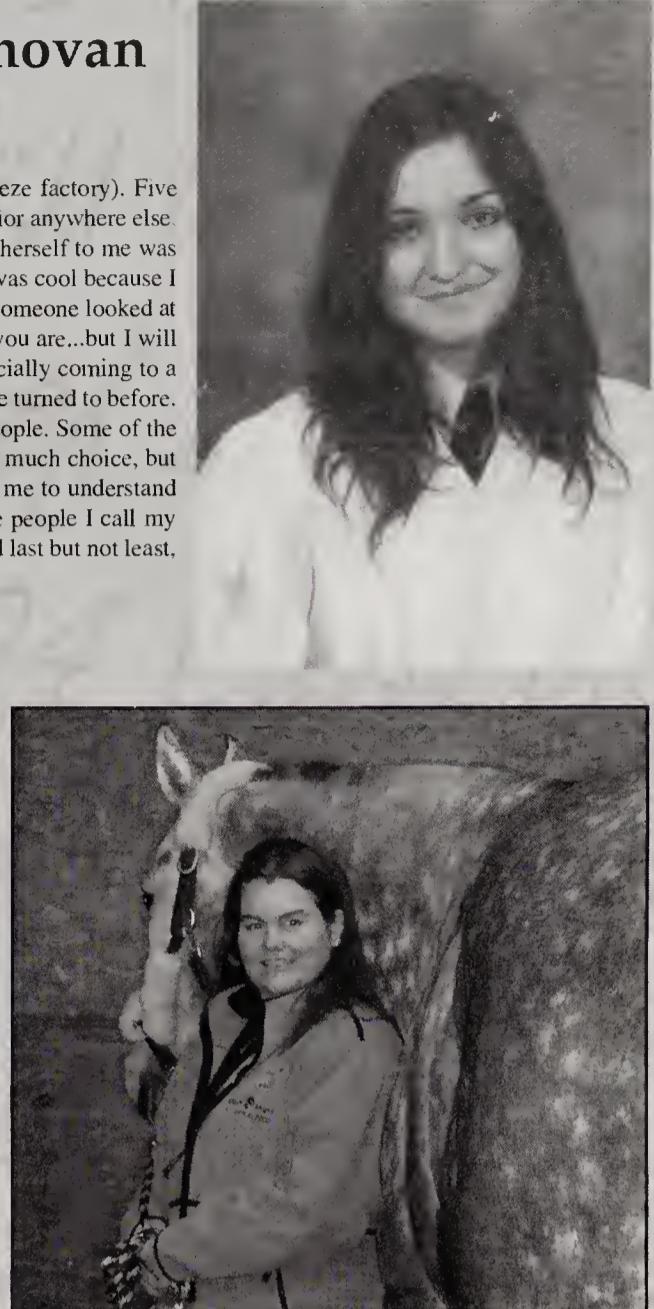

Kristina Eleanor Gregory (Krissy)

Wow! It feels like yesterday that I walked into my grade five class room knowing only Chloé. Now here I am, and I can't believe it's over. I'm excited to get out and start the next chapter of my life, but scared because The Study has been a part of me for so long. Mom and Dad, thank you for giving me this opportunity and thanks for everything you have done for me. I love you so much. Julia and Laura, without you I would not be who I am today, I love you guys. My whole family, I love you all. Chelsea, you are like a sister to me, I love you and your family. Don't worry, they'll take care of each other, they're in a better place. "The rainbows of life follow the storms". Everything will be all right. Class of '04: thanks for always sticking together. All my friends, I'll miss you but I will never forget you. Katy: Disney was great but we'll have to go back to the Boardwalk sometime to find you know who...<3 Heather: next time you go skiing remember to wear lots of warm clothes. Tanya: I'll never forget our fun nights in Spain. I love you guys and I will always remember the great times we had together. "Good friends are hard to find, hard to leave, and impossible to forget". Now I leave you with a few words to keep you smiling:

"Don't cry because it's over. Smile because it happened!" - Unknown

Goodbye for now,

"Well, I've been waiting, I was sure we'd meet between the trains we're waiting for. I think it's time to board another. Please understand I never had a secret chart to get me to the heart of this or any other matter." (Leonard Cohen)

I can't believe it has only been five years, because I have made some of the most important friendships in my life. My entire grade, I love everyone SO MUCH! I want to thank my family, my friends, and anyone that I have ever encountered because you have shaped me into the person that I am today. Dahlia: hand games, laughing at pain or absolutely nothing, Hey yayaya REMIX!. Monica: it all started in Boston and will continue forever, our conversations about nothing mean everything to me...mmmm brownies! Olive: my babydoll, your old at heart. Chloé: ON SE CALME, your singing is music to my ears, you jump I jump (so old). Keenan: snort...your bum means the world to me, casée...suckaaa, I'm going to paint my face and put it on a piece of paper. Chan: in the near future when you fall flat on your face, you will turn your head and see my foot, I love you to pieces. Daina & Leila: one day... Allyson:basketball nemesis. Jenny: my beloved. Kat: to sum it up, your a crazy caca. Amanda: salsa baby, it's a great face. Ciao and cheers my friends!

"Look at you, running around in your underwear, you look like a crazy person."

Sherman Hung (Worm)

OMG! Grad write-ups already?! It's unbelievable how fast time passes here at The Study, but at times... it can be LONG! I'd like to thank my FAMILY, my TEACHERS, and especially my CLASSMATES; who have supported me through all these years; you guys have helped me to become who I am today... all the laughing is definitely part of it! Carol: how are you going to survive without the food in my blazer pocket?! What about the picnic times we have in History class?! Chan: maybe you're a little bit too obsessed over Carol's geek movie...the one with the laptops... "The Study laptop bag for only 35 dollars at the Study Trillium shop"... also give me back my cheese magnet!. Katharine (Batharine Kerber): thanks for the nickname WORM and don't forget all the Chinese we've been teaching you... "su pin"... remember, we are bulldogs (basketball)!... Jessica: I'm going to miss your spaghetti and thanks for teaching me those card games. Erin: I'll always remember the food you brought in for "international food week" ... it was sooo good. Basilia (Yasilia Boung): two words: bathroom buddy! Klivia Orupt: how did this name thing start anyway?! There were so many memorable moments that happened like: "the Fudgeo event" remember Steph & Carol, the game at Marymount, ITM classes, PHYSICS; it's going to stay with me forever! I just want to mention one thing - I'm not the shortest one in the class anymore (lol Daina)! I wish all of you the best of luck and keep smiling!

Tania Kostanian (TK)

I can't believe this day has finally arrived. We made it guys! Although I only came here in Grade 6, I felt like it was forever because, you guys have truly made my years at The Study memorable and for that, I will never forget you. Irene, my after school buddy, you are truly a great friend but more importantly, a great person; we'll definitely keep in touch. Steph: I'm going to miss your jokes; school will never be the same without your comments. Daina: my only Armenian friend - Hayastan Lan! Leila: Siamese 4life! Carol: who would've thought it would be us two; are you staying after school? You better call me. Livia: take care of that aber-rombie for me. Sara: my first friend at The Study and one I will never forget. Although we've had our ups and downs, we'll always be friends; love you bebe! Ah Allyson: my partner in crime, where should I start? Let's see, clothes, silent phone convos that last for hours, singing; I'll never forget those times. Oh, and is it Haha or Ahaha? To my two Lasalle buddies, Monica and Jenny: I'll definitely come visit. Also, my BFF Keenan, K-unit, Monica Chackalian, Emily, Stacky and of course my wifey, Dahlia. Finally, I'd like to say a big thank you to my family for always being there for me. I know I haven't made things easy on you guys, but thanks for always supporting me. So, I guess these are my final words as a Study student so I would like to leave this one message to my graduating class, "shake it like a Polaroid picture!" Love you all! Class of '04 Rocks!

Olivia Adriana Kruyt (Pussyolly)

What's going on EH?? Well before everything, I would like to thank my parents for helping me and supporting me through everything, even if you didn't show up at any of my concerts...I haven't forgiven you yet, I will always have issues. So technically it shouldn't be over for me, as I am constantly reminded on a daily basis. So I am younger than everyone (except for Basilia, hehe) and after you have made countless jokes about it, its time to let it go. Chloé: your mom definitely has it going on...we know what that means. Katharine: Blond 1 and Blond 2 will live on forever. Dahlia, Carmen and Monica: all I have to say is CHEESE WARS! Outwit, Outlast, Outplay is what it is all about. Carol: we definitely had the coolest handshake ever; I will say this one more time - I LOVE YOU. And how could I forget Herman Shung. That joke never got old. Katy: ROLF will live on through the ring. How could I forget the many history classes we have spent doing ROLF trivia and making up your crazy stories with the Woadaabe men and their love wives. No one will ever get it. Shamanon right Monica? Francesca: thanks for listening to me during our dog walks; we've had so many good times, I can't even remember. All of you girls have made these last four years a blast. And finally you taught me how to share. Thanks for all the laughs and the good times.

Love Olivia

It has been 12 long years and finally the time has come for me to leave the only school I have ever known. For years I have wondered if I would be sad or glad when the time came to leave the building I have spent two thirds of life in. I did not know if I would be ready to face the world, but this school has nurtured me to believe that there is life beyond. The Study; that as long as I try my hardest to overcome any obstacle I encounter and to jump any hurdles the world has to give to me, nothing can stop me from accomplishing my dreams. The school is not the only factor that has made me what I am today. My parents were always there to show their support of anything I wanted to do. I appreciate them for having taught me many things and for being there whenever I needed them. I'd like to thank my brother and sister, who have helped me throughout the years and have been there when I needed a stress reliever. And last but not least, I'd like to thank my best friends who have made my frustrating years less unbearable. I am fortunate to have them with me when I graduate and also to have classmates who I can say are all my friends.

Life will always go on, but I will never forget the time I spent with you...

Love Jessica

Maya Rachel Maklan Smith

The Study has become so much a part of me; I will always carry the memories in my heart (or brain, to be literal). Thank you to the wonderful teachers who have taught me so much. To my classmates, I count myself lucky to have been cast among a group of such interesting and intellectually stimulating individuals. I will miss our many profound (and not so profound) conversations. Whether they were under the starry heavens, in a tent, or in heated debate, I have enjoyed them all. Life is a journey not a destination. Enjoy. Slow down and soak up the experiences. Even long legs can take small steps (Katharine, I included you- happy?). Life may have its bumps (such as Flash), but thanks to chocolate chips, sesame candies and friends we have all survived. "The entire world is but a narrow bridge, and the most important thing is not to be afraid." (R. Nachman of Bratzlav). If we don't hope for a better world there is no hope. If we don't act for a better world, it will never be. Believe. Believe in yourself. We can save the world. Eventually.

*Each one of us must play a part, each one of us must heed the call.
Each one of us must seek the truth, each one of us is a part of it all.
Each one of us must remember the pain, each one of us must find the joy.
Each one of us, each one of us.*

Girls we're finally graduating. We've been in this school for as long as I can remember and now it's finally over. Before I go on, I must admit that if there were to be an award given for the weirdest class, we would definitely win! Mom-you've done more for me than I can say. I will always love you unconditionally. Yaiyia kai Papou-sas arapow kai fraristo ya ola. My sibs- I don't know what I would do without you, I love you both. The rest of my family, I love you all. Now to all the girls who have gone through the "study days" with me: Ally- you'll always laugh at the things that are really not that funny. Daina- "What is that" -"NO". Leila- Next year we'll still have to "gym it up". Jenny- you're my wop 4life. Kostanian and Liv- I'll never know which nationality the two of you really are. Steph- the person I would never have been able to survive my Study years without. You are not only an extremely intelligent person who can do anything they set their mind to but also the truest and most honest friend anyone can have. You're my best friend for life. I love you. Class of '04, you're all unique individuals who I've enjoyed my past 11 years with. So now that we're leaving don't cry because it's over...just smile and enjoy because it all happened.

Although I've only been with you for three years, I have enough memories to last me a lifetime. I had so much fun being your GFC representative and I hope you all liked my "I've got the power" campaign. Stacey: you are the greatest partner I've had the pleasure to work with. You were immensely supportive and helpful with the posters, the money and the raffle. Stephanie: you were my first friend at The Study; I will always treasure our memories together. You helped me become a self-assured young woman. I'll never forget the time that guy fell on his face walking up the stairs in Paramount and we burst out laughing. Your friends taught me the difference between black and white people time (an hour and a half!) Carol: your friendship means the world to me. There isn't a day that goes by that I don't thank God that you came into my life. Thank you for being understanding. Oh and I'm sorry about that time when I flooded your bathroom. Dahlia: I've loved you since we were little kids building sand castles at Marois and I'll continue to respect you until the day I die. Never forget what special memories we've had together (and all those cakes I baked for you.) Hayley, Stacey, Jasmine and Stephanie: never have I felt so privileged to work with so many talented young women. Hayley, I love you, what more can I say? I am very fond of my classmates and I wish you all a blissful life.

In all of my 12 years here, I don't think I've ever had a good yearbook picture and this year is no different. It has been 11 years of messed up photo days, 11 years of laughter, tears, friendships, arguing, and let's not forget WORK! As much as I complain (A WHOLE LOT!) I must honestly say that I can't see myself going through elementary and high school with any other bunch of freaks and weirdos! I want to take this opportunity to thank all you guys for putting up with me and for providing me with food (survivors...I have no idea how you guys did it, but I'm glad you did!) Thanks Daina: for putting up with all my insults and abuse, although I think you hurt me way more. Sherman: for all your SNACKS, for listening to me complain and for your amazing math notes. Erin, Jess, Basilia: for having to listen to all my "funny" jokes and stories at lunch oh yea and the occasional complaints. Steph: for all the chemistry and math classes we "used productively". Tania: for walking me outside every afternoon and TUCK! Irene: for your amazing JAM. Daina, Allyson, Steph, Irene, Leila, Jenny, Livia: for FEEDING ME!! I'm going to starve at CEGEP. Emily: for being messed up like me. Monica: for making my hair look awesome next to your's! And to end on a positive note, here's a little quote I found in the most random place...

"Don't spend life trying to find yourself. Instead spend it creating yourself!"

Hayley Alexandra Shannon (Hayls)

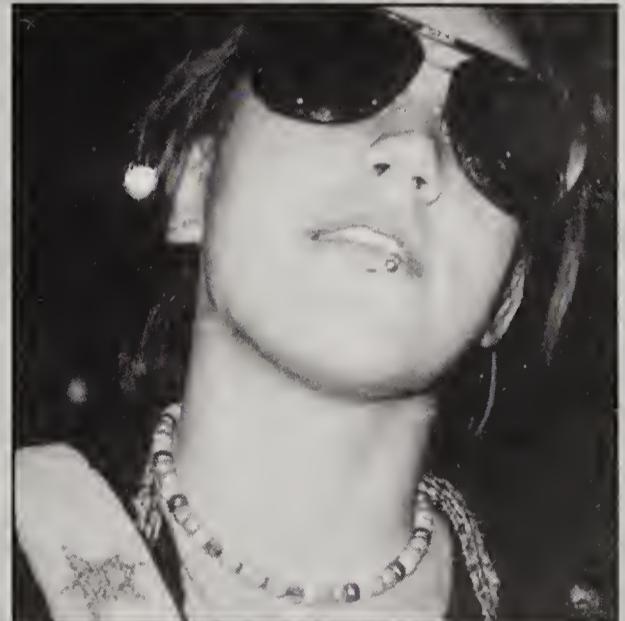

"The Study" – two familiar words, threaded together with just as much fondness as contempt – has played an interesting role in my life. From posing as my surrogate family, to getting me in trouble with my actual family: Hayley talks too much. Hayley doesn't wear her uniform properly. Hayley failed her test – the Study provided nary a dull moment. Keenz: You've been there for me through thick and thin – even through my brief interlude at LCC. Rather than judging me for my imperfections, you've given me your unadulterated support. For that I owe you the world/ MC:randomPEEPUBnights/ AA:EMO! EO:dontleaveme/ CR: smokinrigs MsKemmeny:Thx for everything! My biggest regret leaving The Study is having been so blinded by my life experiences, placing myself beyond (not above) my classmates. I wish I had gotten to know all of you better. Anyways. One phase of my life is over, now I get to complain about the next.

Chloé Thevenoz (Chlo)

After eight years of hard work, and good fun, my school years at The Study are coming to an end. I remember when I first walked into the school with my untidy hair, my messed up tie, and my blouse un-tucked, and now, at 16 not much has changed. I still find myself having teachers approach me and threatening to tuck in my blouse for me if I can't, and classmates constantly fixing my tie, and making it for me. Over the years people have come and gone, but as a class we remained the same. We have always been really close despite all our differences. Each person in our class is their own person, and contributes to the humor our class shares. We always had the gift of driving teachers crazy because of how extremely sarcastic we could be to each other. To us it was all for shoots and giggles. Thank you to all my teachers, to my parents and my family. Mom I hope to be half the women you are. To my two little sisters, know that I will always have your back. Dahlia I love you for always being there when I needed you even if my enthusiasm was a little hard to handle sometimes. I will miss everyone next year, Good luck, and we'll keep in touch. I never would have made it through to the end without you.

"Every moral has a story, Every story has an end" –Ben Harper

Tanya Wong (Wonger)

Time flies when you're having fun! I remember coming to the school for orientation, intimidated to be among people who already knew each other. I didn't know how I'd survive, but five bazaars, four science fairs, three cotillions, two MUNS and a WHOLE lot of ITM later, I think I can say I survived pretty well. To my friends: you guys have been awesome putting up with my antics. Katy: Keep that smoothie shack of mine open, but if a place opens up next to the shrine, it's MINE! Bay: Six words: Broekville Tim Horton's and Tex-Mex Fritos. Jess: Guess you'll be getting peace in math class now. And for those of you who saw "Wrong Turn" with me: DRIVE! Y'all better keep in touch! To the school: Thank you for all the support and encouragement you've provided me with in the past five years. To my sister: You are Super Woman. You are SO amazing and no matter HOW busy you may be or how far away, you're ALWAYS on the other end of the internet or telephone line especially in the event of a "last minute emergency". I am SO proud to call you my big sister and easiest to call you my best friend. To my mom: You are Super Mom! You do everything and anything anywhere and anytime! You amaze me and inspire me every day! Without your continuous support and encouragement I would not be where I am today and I would not be half the person I am.

Katy Elyse Yacovitch (Kates)

If there's one thing I learned throughout my years at The Study, it's that you have to have fun. No matter what, you have to have fun. Without it, you are never going to truly appreciate the wonderful experiences that life has to offer. To Mom and Dad, I want to thank you for giving me so many opportunities to lead such a great life. You've always supported me and been there for me. To Leah, who was (and is) always there for me, no matter what. Thanks for putting up with me. My family has made me who I am today and I love you all so much. Thanks to my one and only for being there for me (or at least on the phone) whenever I needed you; I love you too. To my friends, you guys are the best. My eternal thanks for sticking with me through the ups, the downs, and all the in-betweens of life. I'll never forget all the jokes you shared with me or all the times we've laughed over nothing at all: "H'okay", Alias, phrase frenzy, and ROLF! I had a blast thanks to all of you: Heather, Tanya, Krissy, Monica, Olivia, Basilia, Amanda, and the rest. Every one of you is special and I know I'm going to miss all of you. "Every new beginning starts with some other beginning's end". It's time for us to move on, Class of '04. Let's go see if the world is ready for us!

Basilia Yeung (B)

My two years at The Study have given me the opportunity to experience many new endeavors, and have challenged me to develop leadership and respond to difficulties. Thank you to all the teachers and administration staff, who have made my experience at the Study meaningful. Mommy and Daddy: your inspiration, motivation and continual belief in me mean so much to me. Andrea and Cornelia: thank you for always understanding. Lastly, to my fellow graduates: your kindness and friendship allowed me to feel welcome in a new school and in a new city, and for that I am eternally grateful. Sherman, Tanya, Monica and Katy: I will never forget all the laughs or the help you have each given me throughout my time at The Study. Thank you for everything! Although we will go our separate ways in the future, I hope our paths will cross again. Best of luck in the future!

We had an amazing season: we beat ECS in the finals and won gold! Everyone on the team improved so much. It was a great experience to be captains on such a talented team. Amazing season everyone and we can't wait for next season! Thanks also to Ms. Balfour for making this season so much fun! Always remember: lipstick, bellybuttons and run!

Juvenile Soccer

We've all got to admit that some of our best times have taken place on the soccer field! All our amazing wins and losses along with the crazy wipeouts were great. And yes, we made playoffs! So even though we started off shakily, once we realized the importance of teamwork, we improved with each game as our entire team learned to work together. Whatever you do, try to improve your skill and technique and always remember to have fun – by the end, you will all be all-stars. Go Sonics Go!

Remember to always keep in mind that Soccer is the # 1 sport!

The fall of 2003, all of us were part of our first volleyball team. Central to sports is a love of fun. And we did have fun. Throughout our practices and games, we were able to learn about teamwork, each other, and definitely about volleyball. What can we say? It was great. Some might disagree, based on our pathetic losses and struggle to put up any type of defense, BUT the lessons we learned were well worth it. The memories we have created and come away with will stay with us forever. Many, many, many millions of thanks to our coach, Christy, who taught us so much about the game and to never give up. Thank you to everyone who made this a wonderful season of volleyball.

Does it make any sense that third place doesn't receive a bronze medal? We personally don't think so. This year was definitely a year to remember, although there was no Halifax trip, the team worked hard and made the best of the season. For most of the players, this will be their last year playing for the school and we hope that they all have taken something from the experience, whether it is the affair between the referee and Tracy or our Asian lineups, it was an amazing year.

Being co-captains of this year's Midget basketball team was an unbelievable experience. On top of being crowned GMAA and Bishop's champions and placing fourth in Provincials (losing in semi-finals by three points), we were able to learn about teamwork, leadership and developed a newfound love of the game. We have memories that will stay with us for a lifetime (beating LCC). Thanks to everyone for an insane season and to our amazing coach Steve Sweer who will truly be missed!

Swimming

Although this year was only the second year The Study had a swim team, the swimmers demonstrated skill and spirit. From November to February, students ranging from grades 7 to 11, braved the winter weather and practiced two days a week at the Marianopolis pool to improve technique, speed and endurance. An impressive seven students qualified and represented the school at the GMAA Swimming Championships on February 17, 2004 at the Pointe-Claire pool. These swimmers were Julia Durham, Iona Galbraith, Claire Matheson, Caroline Morgan, Stephanie Regimbal, Basilia Yeung and Cornelia Yeung. Congratulations to the whole team for their hard work, effort and a great season. Many thanks go out to coaches, Janice Tijssen and Melanie Herscovitch for making The Study's swim team a great success! Good luck to the team next year.
